

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

The Pacific Northwest Bird and Mammal Club.

Organized Jan. 7, 1920.

--

Officers, 1921.

F. S. Hall - Seattle, Wn. - President
J. Hooper Bowles, Tacoma, Wn., - Vice President
R. H. Palmer, Seattle, Wn. - Sec'y-Treas.

-----*-----

Introductory:- The Pacific Northwest Bird and Mammal Club was organized one year ago, and during its brief history has demonstrated that there is a field for such an organization in the Pacific Northwest. That it has stimulated an interest among ornithologists and mammalogists of this section, is shown by the growing membership, which now numbers nearly sixty; in the interesting and instructive programs which have been presented at the regular meetings; and in the assistance which the members have given in furnishing notes and articles for publication in the Club bulletin, "The Murrelet." This bulletin has proven to be a means of bringing the members into closer touch with one another, and of stimulating the spirit of research and systematic study along the lines of ornithology and mammalogy. Through this bulletin it is hoped to publish material of real scientific value, consisting of notes, observations, field experiences and articles on northwest ornithology and mammalogy which the members of the Club throughout the territory (viz., Oregon, Washington, British Columbia and Alaska) may contribute from time to time. The Murrelet will be issued every four months, viz., January, May and September, in its present mimeographed form, until such time as finances permit of its being printed as a regular publication.

"The Murrelet"
Bulletin of the P.N.B. & M. Club,
F. S. Hall, Editor,
State Museum, U. of Wn., Seattle, Wn., U.S.A.